U.S. threatens Korea with nuclear weapons

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense James R. Schlesinger, in a new warning to North Korea, says use of tactical nuclear weapons "would be carefully considered" in event of a new invasion of South Korea.

Schlesinger underscored his warning by acknowledging publicly that the United States has tactical nuclear weapons deployed in South Korea.

"If circumstances were to require the use of tactical nuclear weapons... I think that that would be carefully considered," Schlesinger said at a news conference Friday.

He noted at the same time that "the ground forces balance in the Korean peninsula is not unsatisfactory," indicating he believes a North Korean attack could be repelled by conventional weapons.

Schlesinger's warning to North

Korea accompanied his disclosure that the Russians have started deploying three powerful new types of intercontinental ballistic missiles, and that two of them carry multiple warheads which can be aimed at separate targets.

The defense secretary also said recent long-range Soviet missile tests into the Pacific indicate the Russians are improving the accuracy of their ICBMs, a key technology in which the Russians are believed to have trailed the United States.

Pentagon officials are concerned the Russians may be in position by the early 1980s to threaten a first-strike surprise knockout of U.S. missiles if the Soviets deploy large numbers of big new missiles armed with thousands of accurate and powerful nuclear warheads.

Schlesinger's new warning to North Korea comes against the background of U.S. concern that the Communist government in Pyongyang might be tempted to test U.S. readiness to help defend South Korea in the wake of American failure in South Vietnam and Cambodia.

"I do not think it would be wise to test (American) reactions," Schlesinger said in words obviously aimed at North Korean leaders.

Under questioning, Schlesinger said the United States would have to consider sending additional ground troops into South Korea if North Korea attacked and the South Korean army and the one U.S. Army division there now found themselves hard-pressed.

TECUMSEH! — The Scioto Society presented its opening third season performance of the outdoor drama "Tecumseh!" Friday night in the Sugarloaf Mountain Amphitheatre, just north of Chillicothe, with a new leading actor, Anthony Passantino of Brooklyn, N.Y. Passantino is shown above in one of several scenes where he must ward off the savagery within his own people before facing the brutal actions of the white man. The drama will continue nightly except Sundays through August 30 with curtain time at 8:45 p.m.

Reported rape case checked by police

An incident of rape, which reportedly occurred early Saturday morning, is presently under investigation by the Washington C.H. Police Department.

Police officers said a 23-year-old Washington C.H. woman was reportedly raped on N. Fayette Street near the intersection of Paint Street sometime between 3:15 and 3:30 a.m. Saturday.

The victim was treated and released at Fayette Memorial Hospital following the incident.

According to the report, the victim was returning home from the downtown area when the incident occurred. Police released no other details.

The Fayette County Sheriff's Department charged a 16-year-old Jeffersonville boy with shoplifting, and reported a bad credit card and a stolen truck today.

A 16-year-old Jeffersonville youth was arrested by sheriff's deputies for allegedly stealing a bicycle mirror from Seaway, Clinton Avenue, Friday. He has been released to his parents.

A man who attempted to pay for an oil change, a lubrication job and a new air filter, amounting to $19.62, with a bad credit card at Bell's Shell, U.S. 35 and I-71, at 3:50 p.m. Friday, snatched the card from the attendant's hand when it was discovered as invalid and drove off. Deputies are investigating the incident.

A 1965 model truck belonging to Ronald Horton, Washington C.H., was stolen sometime between Aug. 1974 and Jan. 1975, while parked at Coil's Truck Stop, U.S. 22-E. Sheriff's deputies reported Horton had been out of state and when he returned for the truck, it was missing.

Companies 'urge' dealers to increase sale of gas

By The Associated Press

A growing number of service stations are staying open longer these days, switching back to pre-embargo schedules at the request of oil companies urging them to sell more gasoline.

Udall to enter Ohio primary

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Rep. Morris Udall, D-Ariz., said Friday he is "fairly certain" he will enter the 1976 Ohio presidential primary in his bid for the Democratic nomination.

The Arizona Democrat, who has been announced his presidential bid last fall, said a possible favorite-son candidacy by Sen. John Glenn, D-Ohio, would not dissuade him from entering Ohio's presidential primary, but added that "I do hope to consult with Sen. Glenn and other party leaders before making a formal announcement."

State Democratic leaders have urged Glenn to run as a favorite son candidate to preserve an uncommitted Ohio delegation to the Democratic National Convention. Glenn has disavowed any presidential ambitions.

"I am not seeking a confrontation with Sen. Glenn," Udall said. "But if you yield the field everywhere there is a favorite son, you've yielded the field."

Udall said the Ohio, California and New Jersey primaries, all scheduled for June 6, 1976, will be crucial because "the early primaries will have weeded out some of the candidates."

"I think the people of Ohio will want to be part of the choice," he said. "I hope there will not be a favorite son candidate in Ohio."

Udall, who began stumping for the presidency in the face of relative anonymity, said his presidential campaign is nearing the three-quarter mark in his bid to unlock the federal campaign treasury.

He said he has passed the threshold in 13 states, and expects Ohio to become the 14th after fund raising activities in Cleveland on Saturday.

An Associated Press spot check showed only a few cases of intense pressure being applied to dealers to stay open in the evening and on weekends. Most dealers said the oil companies simply asked them to keep selling longer.

Spokesmen for several companies said they were only asking that dealers live up to signed contracts.

The Senate passed and sent to the House on Friday a bill limiting the right of petroleum distributors to cancel franchise agreements with dealers. Distributors would be allowed to cancel a contract only if the dealer failed to comply substantially with his contract or if the distributor quit the petroleum business altogether.

The AP spot check showed the situation varied from station to station, and there was no clear pattern of pressure by any particular company. The AP questioned a Gulf dealer, a Texaco dealer and a Sunoco dealer in Rhode Island, but only the Sunoco dealer, who did not want his name used, reported any pressure. "All they (the oil companies) want to do is sell more gasoline," he added.

The Gulf dealer, Pat Augiello of Providence, and the Texaco dealer, Roger Langlais of West Warwick, had a different response.

"There is no pressure to sell more," Augiello said. Langlais agreed, and added: "They haven't been pushing the gasoline."

There have been recent warnings of a possible gasoline shortage this summer because of declining stockpiles and production. The Federal Energy Administration has said it was checking supply reports and, if necessary, would use its authority to increase production of gasoline since supplies of crude oil to manufacture the fuel are adequate.

Major stations contacted in Chicago reported no pressure. They said their sales were off because of the price difference between the major brands and the independents.

"We sit around and play poker. The price is too high," said one station operator.

Coffee Break...

THE GRAYPS will provide music for dancing from 8 p.m. until 1 a.m. tonight in the Mahan Building for the 1969 Miami Trace High School graduating class five-year reunion... Tickets are $6 per couple...

THE SALE of Lucky Buck tickets will be extended through September 25, according to Robert S. Malaga, director of the Ohio Lottery.

The September 25 date will mark the date of another bonus drawing.

"The reason Lucky Buck ticket sales have been extended is that we have improved our weekly sales by an average of 1,669,290 tickets per week over the preceding week of May 8 when Lucky Buck tickets were not on sale," Malaga said.

"This is an approximate $7 million in revenue we have added to lottery over the 10-week period," he said.

"The ticket sales have improved to a far greater degree than we had originally anticipated," said Malaga.

"It was originally thought that the sale of 50-cent tickets would drop dramatically, rather they have dropped by a small percentage."

Two British officers, Lt. Gen. Sir Chandos Blair, former commanding officer of the Fourth Battalion of the King's African Rifles, and Maj. Ian Grahame, formerly Amin's commander in the King's African Rifles, arrived in Kampala from London to deliver the queen's appeal.

Blair was scheduled to meet with Amin today.

In Brussels, the Parliament of the Common Market urged Amin to spare Hills' life.

Amin said the acquittal Thursday of 38-year-old British businessman Stanley Smolen on charges of hoarding cooking oil — charges that carry a death penalty — shows that justice prevails in Uganda.

a book about Uganda that Amin had acted like a "village tyrant."

Uganda radio said Friday that Amin rejected an appeal for clemency from the queen and declared that Hills must face a firing squad in Kampala, the Ugandan capital, Monday at 11 a.m.

"The presence in Uganda of Mr. Callaghan is absolutely necessary before Monday if the life of Mr. Hills is to be spared," Radio Uganda quoted Amin as saying. "If he comes before, then we will discuss the political side of the matter."

Amin also demanded that Britain expel Ugandan exiles, supply Uganda with military spare parts and halt "malicious propaganda" against the African country, a former British colony.

Gag rule challenge pondered

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Deliberations have begun in the 6th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals on a news media challenge of the "gag rule" imposed by a federal trial judge in the Kent State civil suit.

CBS news charged U.S. District Court Judge Don J. Young of Cleveland went beyond his authority May 6 when he forbade all parties connected with the trial, their friends and relatives, from discussing it with reporters.

The network said the rule hurts its efforts to cover the trial in which the wounded and parents of four students killed in the 1970 campus shootings are suing 39 present and former Ohio

National Guardsmen, Ohio Gov. James A. Rhodes and three ex-state officials.

Young's attorney asked the three-judge panel: "who is going to run the courtroom— Judge Young or the press?"

An attorney for Newhouse Newspapers and the Reporters Committee for Freedom of the Press broadened the case by arguing against all such gag rules which he said should be voided under provisions of the First Amendment guaranteeing freedom of the press.

The panel took the case under advisement.

Judge Young did not appear although he submitted a brief to support his position.

Young's brief said he feared the cause could be "poisoned by improper publicity." And Young warned, "I shall not hesitate to deal harshly with any party whose actions or comments may jeopardize the finality of the trial."

CBS attorney James Garner said the press and broadcast industry has "the right to gather and publish news." Garner charged Young's order "has failed to produce universal requirement for administration of justice."

"We have a constitutional issue and we have been harmed," said Garner, adding that the order "is so broad he has engaged in overkill. He is saying we have all we need."

Toledo attorney John Mattimoe, who represented Young, defended the rule. He questioned how much more information the press needs.

"I won't accept that the press is limited to a sterile trial transcript," said Mattimoe.

Mattimoe said Judge Young considered the ruling "merely an incidental burden" and has overlooked cases of the press violating his order.

Gilligan 'heartsick' over payroll scandal

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Former Gov. John J. Gilligan said Friday he was heartsick and ashamed by events which led to a $5,000 fine against his recount committee for grand theft in connection with the "phantom" payroll investigation.

"Nothing during my 20 years in politics has made me so heartsick and ashamed," Gilligan said in a statement after attorneys entered a guilty plea for the Recount Planning Committee, as an organization.

Common Pleas Court Judge Paul Martin fined the committee $5,000 and costs, payable by Sept. 1.

William Bannon, former chairman of the committee, was present in court, although he faced no criminal liability. Bannon was identified in the one-count indictment but was not cited for any violation.

Gilligan did not mention Bannon by name in his four-paragraph statement, but said: "I can only say I am deeply sorry that a man in my campaign organization, a man of trust, has admitted publicly that he betrayed that trust and that he tolerated illegal activities against the State of Ohio."

The recount committee and five post-campaign employees were indicted on theft charges earlier this month in connection with a grand jury investigation of state payroll irregularities involving no-show jobs.

The five youthful workers have not yet entered pleas. But 11 other so-called phantoms have pleaded guilty to misdemeanor charges and agreed to make restitution on their state salaries.

Asst. Prosecutor Michael Miller, who directed the three month county grand jury probe, has said those charged were put on the state payroll as compensation for their work on the recount committee, which operated with limited funds.

Gilligan, who was not called before the grand jury, was not considered a suspect in the investigation, according to county prosecutor George C. Smith.

The recount group was formed by Gilligan's campaign organization to monitor the official state recount of Gilligan's narrow loss to Gov. James A. Rhodes last November.

Bannon, who had served as Gilligan's deputy campaign manager, is currently coordinating Sen. Henry Jackson's midwestern Democratic presidential campaign. Bannon could not be reached for comment on Gilligan's statement.

The former governor's remarks were scathing and charged with emotion. "I am further deeply sorry that such a man was placed in a position of authority where he was able to influence the activities of some of the young people involved in the campaign and recount, and that through him some of them got into serious trouble.

"We tried very hard for four years to run an honest administration and an honest campaign, and all of those years were to some degree nullified by the betrayal of one man," he said.

The recount committee, apparently only a paper organization now, could have been fined up to $10,000.

Marines help man take enlistment

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Thanks to some Marines, ex-Marines, and a bunch of civilians, Christopher Quackenbush, 18, got a chance to take a test to prove he has the equivalent of a high school education.

Quackenbush, a young man without a family, wants to join the Marines but he didn't have the $12.50 needed to take the test.

Appropriately, the first check came from the Marine Corps League made up of active duty and retired Marines.

Syrian minister, Kissinger search for Mideast peace

WASHINGTON (AP) — Talks between Syrian Foreign Minister Abdel Halim Khaddam and Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger are moving into an unexpected second day in the search for progress in Middle East peace negotiations.

The original schedule for Khaddam's visit called only for Friday meetings with Kissinger and President Ford.

But two separate sessions with the secretary Friday and a 75-minute White House discussion with Ford showed additional talks were needed, a State Department official said.

He said Kissinger decided on today's breakfast meeting in order to obtain clarification of Syria's stand on some of the key issues outstanding between Israel and the Arab nations.

The official would not give details, but it was understood Khaddam expressed reservations that a new U.S. initiative to restart indirect talks between Israel and Egypt would leave his country isolated from the diplomatic process.

The Syrian foreign minister also was described as concerned over the announcement by the Israeli Labor party, the dominant element of Israel's government, that Syrian territory on the Golan Heights captured in 1967 and 1973 would be annexed.

Officials speaking on the record after Friday's meetings were vague about the discussions and pointedly refrained from mentioning progress.

White House Press Secretary Ron Nessen, for example, said only that Ford and Khaddam "exchanged views on the roads which might be followed in order to maintain momentum" toward a settlement.

The President also asked the foreign minister to convey to his government the American "conviction that all parties in the Middle East do everything possible to avoid stagnation," Nessen said.

Once Khaddam returns to Damascus and reports back to Washington on his government's reaction, Ford and Kissinger hope to complete their re-examination of U.S. Middle East policy.

The major purpose of the review is to decide whether Kissinger should resume his effort at moving step by step toward a partial Egyptian-Israeli settlement and then work on an over-all agreement that includes Syria.

The only visible option is the resumption of a wide-scale peace conference at Geneva, an alternative Ford and Kissinger feel has little chance to succeed.

President to abolish crude price controls

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford, disappointed at a House-passed energy bill, intends to submit to Congress soon his plan to decontrol the price of domestic crude oil, Press Secretary Ron Nessen reports.

Diner closed

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Louis' Lunch, which claims to have served the first hamburger, has closed its doors to make way for a modern nine-story complex of medical offices and shops.

Kenneth Lassen, the owner, says his grandfather, Louis Lassen, invented the hamburger and served it in the 12-by-18 foot snack shop starting in 1917.

But Ford is reserving judgment on whether to impose a third $1-per-barrel tariff on imported oil until he sees what energy action is taken by the Senate, Nessen said Friday.

Nessen said the President is willing to work with Congress on an energy bill but feels the measure passed by the House Thursday "is a piece of paper that just doesn't get there."

He said Ford still believes the United States must free itself from dependence on foreign oil by 1985 so that foreign producers cannot "blackmail or hold the United States hostage by raising the price at their own whim or by cutting off supplies at their own whim."

He said that to do this Congress must enact a program that will reduce oil consumption and spur development of alternative energy sources.

The bill passed by the House "simply doesn't get anywhere near those goals ... it abandoned these goals," Nessen said.

He said it is now up to the Senate "to start again, to pass a bill that will reach the goals set by the President."

The press secretary said Ford intends to submit a program to Congress soon to decontrol the price of domestic crude oil as a means of encouraging producers to explore for new sources of oil.

About three-fifths of U.S.-produced oil is now subject to price controls and is selling at about $5.25 a barrel. Other oil, including foreign oil, is selling at more than $10 a barrel.

Nessen said Ford took what administrative action he could to reduce oil consumption by raising the import tariff on oil by $2 a barrel in two steps. In announcing that action last January, Ford said he intended to raise the tariff a total of $3, but Nessen said Friday that Ford will not add the final dollar until he sees what the Senate does.

The House passed the energy bill Thursday but only after deleting a three-cent to 23-cent increase in the gasoline tax, the key conservation section.

Minimum fee schedule won't affect Ohioans

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio State Bar Association said Friday it didn't expect a recent U. S. Supreme Court decision against minimum fees schedules of bar associations to have an effect in Ohio.

William Moore, a spokesman for the association, said the state organization never had a minimum fee schedule and local bar associations have dropped theirs in recent years.

At one time, he said, the American Bar Association had a provision in its code of ethics that subjected lawyers who charged less than state or local schedule minimums to grievance procedures.

"The Ohio State Bar Association never adopted the ABA provision," he said. Most of the local associations dropped the schedules at least two years ago, he said.

Minimum fee schedules were originally adopted to give attorneys some idea of fair charges for various services, according to Moore.

BOOKED FULL — The Gallery book store, N. Fayette St., was full of glad tidings Friday when members of the Washington C.H. Area Chamber of Commerce Ambassadors Club officially welcomed the new store. President Bruce Galloway (holding plaque) presented the store's owner Don Hubert with his membership in the Chamber. Ms. Betsy Chapman, store manager, assisted Hubert with the ribbon cutting ceremony. The store will be open from 9 a.m. until 5:30 p.m. daily, and until 8 p.m. on Fridays.

Stock market began surge last week with sharp rally

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market, bogged down in profit taking and economic uncertainty since early May, got rolling again this past week with a sharp and broadly based rally.

The chief catalysts for the upsurge were evidence of easing inflation, renewed hopes for an improving economy, and talk from the White House of giving private industry a place in the production of nuclear fuel.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks climbed 30.97 to 855.44, moving within hailing distance of its 1975 closing high of 858.73 on May 14. Standard & Poor's 500-stock index advanced 2.09 to 92.61, and the New York Stock Exchange composite index was up 1.20 to 49.39.

Advances overpowered declines 1,234 to 55 among the 2,027 issues changing hands on the NYSE.

Big Board volume picked up speed, averaging 19.88 million shares a day compared with 18.46 million the week before.

Economic plan could bring industry here

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A team of Ohio industrial representatives has identified "11 immediate and 15 long range prospects for business expansion in Ohio," development director James Duerk said Friday.

Duerk said the Ohio Development Team called on 230 companies during a recent trip to the New York metropolitan area.

"The industries contacted by the development team are watching the progress of Gov. Rhodes four-point economic program," Duerk said. "Ohio's competitiveness in attracting new industry and jobs to the state could be determined by the success of the four proposed bond issues."

Rhodes is attempting to gather 307,000 signatures on petitions to qualify the issues for the November ballot.

IRS agents involved in illegal acts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Internal Revenue Service agents in two investigations "were major participants in illegal acts," an internal IRS audit report says.

"In one project the agent directly participated in extortion, sale of stolen property and fraudulent business schemes," said one of four IRS reports released Friday by a House Government Operations subcommittee.

In another investigation, an undercover agent "conducted a gambling and illegal liquor sales operation that ultimately resulted in his arrest and prosecution."

Another report revealed twelve cases involving unauthorized electronic surveillance. While IRS's intelligence division was supposed to have only 28 induction coils for use in recording telephone conversations, an inspection uncovered 53, the report said.

IRS Commissioner William C. Alexander said the review resulted in disciplining of some IRS agents and suspension of the agency's intelligence gathering system pending adoption of new guidelines. He did not specify the disciplinary measures or how many agents were disciplined.

The strong showing came despite some shock effects early in the week from Du Pont's forecast that its second-quarter earnings would be sharply lower than they were in the comparable period last year.

As of midday Wednesday, the Dow showed a negative reading for the week before it began to pick up some forward momentum.

When it did, brokers found several reasons — perhaps the most intriguing of which was the word from the White House that the Ford administration was considering proposing a bill to put future nuclear fuel production facilities in the hands of the private sector.

The government would reportedly retain control of three existing facilities for enriching uranium, if the plan were enacted.

Whatever other issues the proposal raised, one broker said he believed the idea would logically appeal to the financial community and investors who shared its economic philosophies for three reasons:

"First, it would do something to resolve our energy problems. Second, it would be done better by industry than it would be by government; and third, it would give somebody a chance to make some money."

By Friday morning, there were at least two other factors working for the market — the government's report that the rise of consumer prices slowed in May, and a Conference Board group's report suggesting that a marked economic recovery was in prospect for the next 18 months.

Of particular note in the consumer price report was the news that the increase in prices of nonfood items was the slowest in 20 months. The non-food group is watched closely by observers looking for signs of trends because it is considered less prone to volatile short term swings than food costs.

With that kind of news to work with, the Dow gained 17.52 points Thursday and another 10.09 on Friday.

In all, 305 Big Board stocks hit new 1975 highs, against only 11 new lows.

No requiem for Pogo

We know a young man, now nearing 30, who once could quote whole passages of dialogue from Walt Kelly's Pogo comics. This was a considerable feat, since the little 'possum and his Okefenokee Swamp conferees were talky blaggards (as Kelly might have put it) wont to engage in richly colloquial flights of fancy.

Once Pogo and friends appeared daily in more than 400 newspapers. Once books of Pogo sequences appeared regularly, to be treasured by fans with a taste for Kelly's biting social comment - or just for his endlessly fresh and creative drawings of quaint creatures in a world of animal-human comedy. Kelly's wife, Selby, has kept the strip going since her husband's death two years ago. Now, alas, she has decided to let it die. It will not really die, though; the old strips will continue to live in book form. And, of course, in the minds of that young man and many others of his generation who understood that Pogo was something very special.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

SUNDAY, JUNE 22

ARIES

(March 21 to April 20)

This day's success will depend largely on your mental attitude. Do not be disappointed if all your wishes are not granted immediately. Take delays in stride.

TAURUS

(April 21 to May 21)

Don't put anything into operation without knowing if you can follow through. Your fervent desire to attain must be thoughtfully directed.

GEMINI

(May 22 to June 21)

Your receptive mind should be stimulated now, so don't let down in purposeful, vigorous action. A good day in which to make plans for the future.

CANCER

(June 22 to July 23)

A day which should bring your strengthened purpose and stepped-up ambitions. You can achieve much, both on your own and with backing.

LEO

(July 24 to Aug. 23)

Some challenges possible, but face them — with confidence. With the Leoite's excellent foresight and ingenuity, you should solve all situations handily.

VIRGO

(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)

A thorough reappraisal of recent weeks can be the basis for highly improved future planning. Don't stymie yourself through outmoded ideas, methods. Be progressive.

LIBRA

(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)

Fine influences. Persevere in affairs that require strong backing and character. This day has many unexpected advantages — even if you have to search some out yourself.

SCORPIO

(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)

Stars now give you strength which can be astutely employed to benefit yourself and others. Look for the best and you will find it. Be alert to distortion of facts.

SAGITTARIUS

(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)

Your active mind seeks expression now. Direct it with forethought and discernment. Review investments, future plans. Some changes may be required.

CAPRICORN

(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)

Some beneficial influences, others less generous, but the latter can actually add zest to the day. Avoid words or actions that could bring disagreements.

AQUARIUS

(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

You can hurt your cause by being too hasty, too ready to form an opinion drawn from insufficient data. Explore avenues of surer procedure.

PISCES

(Feb. 20 to March 20)

There are numerous ways in which to advance your interests now, but not everything will run as expected: Bear with unavoidable delays.

YOU BORN TODAY are a Gemini-Cancer cuspal and, as such, are endowed with the strongest traits of both Signs. You have the fine intellect, imagination and versatility of the Gemini plus the practicality, conservatism and meticulousness of the Cancerian — a potent combination. But you often lack confidence in yourself; become easily discouraged. Your love of home and family is outstanding, but you may be too strict a spouse or parent. You would make an excellent teacher but, here again, you will have to guard against being too stern a disciplinarian. Other lines in which you could excel: writing, music, the theater.

MONDAY, JUNE 23

ARIES

(March 21 to April 20)

You may feel somewhat lethargic, but give yourself a pep talk. Fine opportunities lie ahead, and incentive CAN be quickened to meet top requirements.

TAURUS

(April 21 to May 21)

Do not coast when you should be moving into high gear in business, work or financial matters. But neither press nor strain. Follow a smooth course.

GEMINI

(May 22 to June 21)

Mercury influences stimulate intellectual pursuits — especially in matters where writings are involved. But work carefully. No impulsiveness!

CANCER

(June 22 to July 23)

Especially favored now: science, research, educational matters, all endeavors which require meticulous handling of details.

LEO

(July 24 to Aug. 23)

You will now be in competition with top-flight people and their activities. You can hold your own, advance, too. Good ideas and eloquent speech will help.

VIRGO

(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)

As with Leo, step up endeavors to meet competition that is working overtime. The extra try will be worth it.

LIBRA

(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)

Beneficent stellar influences heighten your perception. Your ingenuity in a tricky job situation will win laurels from superiors.

SCORPIO

(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)

Do not get caught up in a dilemma of indecision or scatter efforts in so many directions that you accomplish nothing. Use that good judgment of yours.

SAGITTARIUS

(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)

Auspicious Jupiter influences fan the fires of enthusiasm for dedicated purpose, popular enterprises. This should be a day never forgotten.

CAPRICORN

(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)

Protect assets. Don't let money slip through heedless fingers, nor let talents be wasted on fruitless ventures.

AQUARIUS

(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

Ask questions, but listen well to the answers, and use care in interpreting relevant facts. You will encounter both high caliber motives and dubious ones.

PISCES

(Feb. 20 to March 20)

Competition may be keen but, where you have the know-how, don't be afraid to enter the race. Especially favored: maritime pursuits and occult interests.

YOU BORN TODAY are a combination of the tenacious and the persuasive, the affectionate and the obstinate; are hard-working and practical, but also genial and sociable. You lack confidence in yourself at times, however, and are inclined to worry. Once you shed fears and doubts, you can forge ahead with unusual success. You are innately reserved and dignified but, on the other hand, are always ready to discard the ordinary downright unconventional, in fact. Fields in which you could especially excel: medicine, teaching, writing, acting, business.

Heat, humidity steam Midwest as spring ends

By The Associated Press

Thunderstorms roamed the Plains from the Dakotas to Texas today while a spring-ending outbreak of heat and humidity steamed the Midwest and much of the East.

In the West, more than 4,000 persons were evacuated from their homes Friday along the flood-swollen Sun River at Great Falls, Mont., awaiting a crest expected today.

Nine tornadoes spun out of thunderstorms Friday and early today, mostly in open country, in Nebraska, South Dakota, Illinois, Kansas and Texas. Two mobile homes were overturned and trees were downed by high winds 45 miles northwest of Amarillo, Tex. No injuries were reported.

Nearly 3 inches of rain drenched Dalhart, Tex. Local downpours of an inch or more were common in the storm areas.

The rains eased in most of Montana. Helicopters were pressed into evacuation duty in other areas outside Great Falls where heavy rains earlier in the week pushed rivers and creeks out of their banks and into the streets of towns.

Forty-two children at a church gathering at Augusta, Mont., were airlifted to higher ground because of rising waters on the eastern slopes of the northern Rockies. Forty-five persons at a nearby dude ranch also had to be airlifted.

Temperatures in the 70s stuck to the Midwest and most of the East outside the Northeast overnight following another day of readings in the upper 80s and 90s. Little relief was in sight through the weekend, except in occasional thunderstorms.

Summer begins at 8:27 p.m. (EDT). Temperatures before dawn ranged from 39 at Flagstaff, Ariz., to 84 at Corpus Christi, Tex.

Airport fire tests look 'suspicious'

COVINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Laboratory tests were ordered by Kentucky arson investigators who said the cause of the estimated $2 million fire in a terminal last Sunday is now believed to be "suspicious."

Phil Hampton, Hebron, of the state arson investigation office of the Kentucky State Police, said all accidental causes have been eliminated.

Hampton said he hoped the laboratory reports would determine whether "something that should not have been there was there."

The fire destroyed administrative offices on the second floor and the Cincinnati weather bureau. Two airport firemen died in the fire.

Industrial users to get larger gas allocations

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Natural gas allocations to industrial and large commercial customers of Columbia Gas of Ohio will be increased to 90 per cent of their normal allotments in July.

The firm originally announced that 1,380 industrial customers would be curtailed 30 per cent and 1,560 commercial customers would be cut 15 per cent from April 1 to Oct. 31.

A Columbia spokesman said all the industrial and large commercial customers would operate with 10 per cent cuts.

"We have been notified by our supplier that it will be able to reduce curtailment levels to us beginning in July," said Marvin E. White, president of Columbia Gas of Ohio.

"This combined with conservation by our customers and reduced industrial consumption because of our economic conditions means that we will have more gas than anticipated for our customers this contract year."

White predicted that Columbia will still have to impose a minimum curtailment of 60 per cent on industrial customers and 40 per cent on commercial customers beginning Nov. 1. Last year, industrial curtailment reached 55 per cent in Ohio.

White urged customers not to interpret this reduction in curtailment as a relaxation on the energy shortage in the country.

"As in the past, any change in the current percentages of curtailment will depend upon the amount of gas conserved by customers and possible future changes in the gas supply in the Southwest," he said.

Columbia Gas serves some 815,000 residential, 68,000 commercial and 2,300 industrial customers in Ohio.

Gilligan may seek U.S. Senate seat

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Former Gov. John Gilligan says there is a strong probability he will run for the U.S. Senate next year.

Gilligan told Plain Dealer politics writer Joseph Rice in an interview Friday he has changed his thinking in recent months after emerging from what he called the shell-shock of his upset loss to Gov. James Rhodes last fall.

Gilligan said he expects to make a decision late this year, and he indicated that he won't shy away from a Democratic primary fight if Howard Metzenbaum decides to run again for the Senate next year.

U.S. Rep. James Stanton also has been mentioned as a possible Democratic senatorial candidate.

Yesterday's Cryptoquote: MARRIAGE ALWAYS REQUIRES THE GREATEST UNDERSTANDING OF THE ART OF INSINCERITY BETWEEN TWO HUMAN BEINGS. — VICKI BAUM

Dear Abby:

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Ode to daughter's first apartment

DEAR ABBY: After reading about how sloppy some children are about their rooms, I had to send this poem: "There's nothing so neat nothing so sweet as a daughter's first apartment. With every item ad infinitum kept in its own compartment. No possession's so rude as to ever intrude on a place that is another's. How does she do it? There's nothing to it — the clutter is still at Mother's!"

JANE D. FEIST
DEAR ABBY: There has been a lot of publicity about the need for spaying and neutering animals-but not enough. I live in a rural area that is quite close to the county dump, where many animals are left like so much rubbish. They find their way to my house because it's closest, and since I can't bear to see an animal go hungry or freeze, I have had to assume the unfair responsibility of disposing of it.

At first I'd take them to the vets to be put to sleep, but that became too costly. I couldn't continue, so my husband has been shooting them mercifully with a bullet in the head. Every time he shoots a dog or cat it upsets us so much we both have nightmares.

Today another beautiful, healthy puppy was at my door, and I know we will have to kill her.

We are in the lower income bracket and have more pets now than we can feed or care for.

Please, Abby, ask your readers to have their animals "fixed" so they won't reproduce. Also ask them not to take them out in the country and abandon them. It's too hard on us.

ANIMAL LOVER
DEAR ABBY: I am also an animal lover, and as such, I'm using your letter in hopes that it will be heeded.

DEAR ABBY: Because of a recent argument with my father, I am writing to you for the answer.

We were watching professional wrestling on TV and arguing about whether it was real or faked.

My dad claims some of the wrestling is faked, but most is real.

I think it's all faked. The big question is whether the wrestlers know who is going to win before they enter the ring. I say they know, and my dad says they don't.

The facts on this subject would be greatly appreciated.

NORWICH, N.Y.

DEAR NORWICH: Only the wrestlers in question are qualified to give the facts. And if the wrestlers ARE faking in order to put on a good show, you wouldn't expect them to admit it, would you?

CONFIDENTIAL TO "STILL HURTING IN NAPLES, FLORIDA": You can't "kill" love. It has to die by itself.

A REPORT this week from Bill Blair, extension entomologist at OSU, reminds that now is the time to be checking corn fields for corn rootworm. Small worms may be present now. They burrow into roots and may not be easily observed for a week or ten days. Examine plants, damage should be easy to detect by the first of July. If damaging numbers are found in fields where no insecticide was used, there is emergency treatment listed in Extension Bulletin 545, Insect Pests of Field Crops.

CHRIS RODABAUGH, field representative with the Chester White Swine Record Association, was in Fayette County this week working on arrangements for the National Chester White Summer Spotlight scheduled for July 7, 8 and 9 at the Fayette County Fairgrounds.

The spotlight will feature a tested boar class plus nearly 300 December, January, and February boars and open gilts from the nation's leading Chester White herds. Fayette Countians can be proud that the Chester White Association selected the facilities at the Fayette County Fairgrounds to hold the 1975 event.

Officials hope to wind up ag census

By DON KENDALL
AP Farm Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The new agricultural census is still lagging but federal officials say they hope to wind it up by July 31, a month later than originally scheduled.

As of June 10, the Bureau of the Census said Thursday, about 76 per cent of the four million questionnaires mailed to farmers, landowners and others earlier this year had been filled in and returned.

Originally the bureau had set June 30 for cutting off the mailin returns, but officials said another month will be taken in hopes of encouraging more people to complete the questionnaires. Federal law requires the forms to be completed and returned to the government.

The farm census, taken every five years on a county-by-county basis, relates to 1974 farm operations. The mail method was initiated in 1970 for 1969 farm operations and was conducted along with a regular 10-year census enumeration for all Americans.

J. Thomas Breen, chief of the bureau's agricultural census division, told a reporter he thought that if the follow-up work is successful through July the final tally might show about 95 per cent returns of the forms, about equal to the 1970 rate.

Unofficially, Breen said, additional returns since June 10 have boosted the tally to about 83 per cent of the forms originally mailed. A special effort has been made, including personal telephone contact, to get responses from larger farm operators.

Although the additional month for getting more forms to be returned may delay the timetable somewhat, Breen said the plan remains to be releasing the new census data in November. States which have responded best will be reported on first, he said.

Based on the June 10 tabulations, North Carolina residents had returned 82 per cent of 203,654 census forms mailed to them, matched by 82 per cent of West Virginia's 52,839 forms sent there, the bureau said.

At the lower end of the scale, only 66 per of 115,270 census forms mailed to Georgia people had been returned, equaled by 66 per cent of 67,797 sent to Louisiana.

Census completion as of June 10 for some of the other more populated farm states included: Illinois 78 per cent of 180,334 mailed; Indiana 79 of 139,819; Iowa 78 of 181,333; Kansas 76 of 115,671; Kentucky 77 of 176,266; Michigan 79 of 132,865; Minnesota 71 of 156,828; Missouri 78 of 200,181; Ohio 79 of 147,348; Oklahoma 74 of 115,764; Tennessee 78 of 181,315; Texas 75 of 323,706; and Wisconsin 80 of 134,686.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cattle prices continued to edge higher last week and by mid-June were at their highest level in nearly two years at major slaughter markets.

For the week ended June 15, the Agriculture Department said Thursday, choice-grade steers at Omaha averaged $52.10 per 100 pounds, up from $51.15 the previous week and from $34.45 a year earlier.

"Slaughter steer and heifer prices received another advance even though the dressed meat market was much less vigorous than in the past few weeks," the department's Agricultural Marketing Service said.

"Demand continued to settle on choice steers over 1,100 pounds and heifers over 950 pounds as the supply of wellfinished cattle remains relatively small."

Hogs also continued up, with the seven major slaughter markets averaged $47.89 per 100 pounds last week, compared with $46.70 the previous week and $23.32 a year earlier.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department says that world food production continues to show promise that it will rise this year from weather-reduced harvests in 1974.

"In North America, plantings, although delayed in spots, appeared to be advancing well and crops were generally in good shape" by early June, the department's Outlook and Situation Board said Thursday. "The same was true in most of Europe. In the USSR, however, the weather has been mostly warm and dry in many important agricultural areas and some shortfall from planned grain production is expected."

Officials said that the favorable crop outlook "will put downward pressure on prices" of commodities despite the short supplies of grain from previous crops.

Indiana corn, bean crops said good

WEST LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP) — Despite the scattered thundershowers and wet soils that kept Indiana farm work at a minimum last week, the corn and soybean crops continued ahead of last year's pace.

An average of just one day was considered suitable for work last week. The Purdue University weather and crop report notes field work mostly was in southern Indiana and some central counties.

The soybean crop was 85 per cent planted by the end of last week. That is three weeks ahead of 1974. Virtually all of the corn crop has emerged and stands still are rated good. Corn averaged nine inches high, compared with five inches at the corresponding time last year.

CHECK PLOT — This weed patch is found in a check plot in the herbicide demonstration plots on the Kenneth Walters farm, Ohio 729, north of Jeffersonville. County Extension Agent John P. Gruber announced that the plots will be the focus of a Herbicide Field Day, Wednesday, June 25 from 1:30 until 3:30 p.m. on the Walters farm.

The Posy Garden Club observes 25th anniversary

The Posy Garden Club met at the Madison Mills United Methodist Church to observe the 25th anniversary of its organization, with an open meeting on Wednesday. Fifty guests from Plain City, Xenia, London, Bellbrook, Greenfield, Hillsboro, Leesburg, Orient and North Carolina, and members from the Fayette Garden Club were greeted by the Posy Garden Club president, Mrs. Jess Schlichter.

Miss Dawn Schlichter, accompanied by Mrs. Max Schlichter, sang "Oh, What a Beautiful Morning" from Oklahoma.

Mrs. Carl Benner read a short history of the club which was organized June, 1950, with 11 members. Six of the charter members were present. A brief Memorial service for deceased members took place, when Mrs. J. Schlichter read a poem and Miss Schlichter sang "In the Garden" with Mrs. Homer Wilson, a charter member, the accompanist.

The club now has 18 members, and is very active in the community, doing therapy work with the Fayette Progressive School, conducts an annual ecology poster contest for the fifth grade of the Madison Mills elementary school, has received many Regional awards and received one of the highest Ohio Association of Garden Club awards, the Victor Reis award, as an 'outstanding garden club in the state in 1973.

Mrs. Vance C. Hendricks, and OAGC accredited judge, also OAGC state treasurer, gave a most enjoyable demonstration of "Flower Arranging Through the Years." She said the first flower show she judged, after becoming accredited, was for the Posy Club, 14 years ago. Flowers and plants have been used to decorate homes and persons for as long as we have recorded history, she said. The Romans wore laurel wreaths, and the Egyptians used plants in many ways. Mrs. Hendricks had made a "tussey-mussey" of white carnations and centered with a fragrant rose. She said these were carried by young girls to church and parties in the 18th Century and always made of fragrant flowers.

The Williamsburg type mass arrangements were followed by stiff designs of 25 years ago, which followed many rules and made very stiff, all closely alike. She made a vertical arrangement with all foliage and a triangle with all white flowers, then showed how shops began to lean toward Japanese style, using less flowers and following the natural growth pattern of plant. She made several beautiful conventional arrangements following the "arts and principles of design;" then modern free style and finished with an attractive stamobile, entitled Disneyland. Mrs. Hendricks concluded that 'flower arranging is more fun now that rules are not so rigid and one may express herself, and the designs now show more originality and distinction.

Mrs. Arthur Schlichter displayed in the church vestibule an arrangement complementing a string-art brown frame in orange, blue and gold yarns. Her arrangement was in a brown and blue handformed container with blue and yellow Louisiana iris, orange Indian lilies, twisted Harry Landers walking stick and brown fern seedheads.

Mrs. Benner and Mrs. Frank Barrett displayed a table of pictures, program and publicity books and Mrs. Kenneth Campbell and Mrs. Forest Fry had collected many craft articles made by members of past garden club workshops to be enjoyed by the guests.

Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. W.B. Edwards were in charge of the registration book and Mrs. Bess Seaman, Mrs. Lester Haines, Mrs. Easter Woods and Mrs. Lyle Hanawalt presided at an attractive tea table centered with a silver bowl of yellow and salmon roses, grown and arranged by Mrs. Seaman.

Mrs. Leo Titus of Xenia, third vice president in OAGC, and Mrs. Ralph White of Bellbrook, and Region 16 Director, were among the guests.

Conner Women hear about Progressive School

Mrs. Kenneth Bush was hostess when the Conner Farm Woman's Club met this week. Mrs. Frank Weade one of the seven-members of the Board of Mental Retardation Program, was introduced by Mrs. Jean Nisley. Mrs. Weade told that the program began in Washington C.H. in 1967, and there are now 42 students in five classes at the Fayette Progressive School, held at the former Sunnyside School Building. A noon meal is served and sessions are conducted from 9 a.m. until noon. Members were very interested to hear of the success of the program being conducted in the Washington C.H. area.

Mrs. Carlton Belt, president of the club, conducted the brief business meeting. Members responded to roll call by telling something concerning their wedding day, concerning where, when, etc. By-laws of the club were read and minutes from the previous meeting.

Mrs. Bush served a dessert course from a table centered with a water garden of mixed spring flowers. Present were Mrs. Sam Marting, Mrs. Edgar Wilson, Mrs. Robert Case, Mrs. Otties Smith, Mrs. Barton Montgomery, Mrs. Walter Sollars, Mrs. Maryon Mark, Mrs. Lorain Morter, Mrs. Orville Bush, Mrs. Maurice Sollars, Mrs. Orville Waddle, Mrs. Joe Palmer, Mrs. James Waddle, Mrs. Joe Burris, Mrs. Marion Waddle and Mrs. William Still, a guest.

The group will not meet again until September.

KIRKPATRICK FUNERAL HOME

Dear friends,

The modern funeral has a two-fold purpose: it is a ceremony during which relatives, friends and associates pay their respects to the deceased - and comfort to the survivors. It usually lasts a period of two to four days, and takes place in the presence of the body of the one who has died. This helps to confirm the reality of death, which is essential for the mental health of the bereaved.

Respectfully,

Rickard Kirkpatrick

Watson electrifies U.S. Open golf

Storm runs best time but misses final race

Eugene, Oregon-Sprinter Brian Storm just missed qualifying for the finals of the 100-meter dash in the AAU National Track and Field Meet at Eugene Friday night.

Storm finished fourth in the Preliminary heat to qualify for the semis in a time of :10.27. During that race he was timed in the shorter 100-yard distance in :9.3 for his best time ever.

In the semis Storm just missed securing a finals berth when he finished fifth with a time of :10.28. The top four in each of the two semifinals heat advanced to the finals on Saturday.

Twenty runners competed in the event, which was an unexpectedly small field, as Don Quarrie won Storm's semifinal heat in a time of 9.9.

Storm said he was sorry he didn't do better in the meet, but he learned a lot and appreciated all the help and support he received. The former Washington Senior High trackster's semifinal performance placed him tenth in the event.

MEDINAH, Ill., (AP) — Lightning-shy Tom Watson is on the verge of unleashing his own bolt of championship electricity in the 74th U.S. Open Golf Tournament, carrying a three-stroke lead and a record-matching 36-hole total of 135 into today's third round.

Watson, 25, delayed the start of his second hot round, a three-under-par 68 Friday, to invoke the lightning rule to the dismay and embarrassment of U.S. Golf Association Officials.

"I saw a big storm was coming and I knew from a clap of thunder that lightning was only a mile away, so I walked off the starting tee and went into the clubhouse," explained Watson, who last year let the Open escape his grasp with a final round blowup.

Tournament officials didn't agree, but when they went to the first tee with Watson's playing partners, Lee

Trevino and Bobby Nichols—as Watson smilingly recalled—"Zap, lightning hit nearby."

After a 35-minute halt of tourney play, and an apology to Watson by P.J. Boatwright, U.S. Golf Association Executive Director, Watson methodically took apart rain-plagued Medinah Country Club's par 71 forest primeval for the second straight day.

Watson's 36-32 effort followed an opening 67, put him three strokes ahead of another former collegiate star, Ben Crenshaw, who also carded a 68 for a 36-hole total of 138.

Watson's 135 matched the halfway open record set in 1960 by Mike Souchak and tied in 1968 by Bert Yancey.

Among the old guard pursuers, favored Jack Nicklaus, seeking a fourth Open title and a big second leg on a Grand Slam bid, lingered seven strokes behind at even-par 142 after rounds of 72-70.

A notch ahead in a three-way tie at 141 was another former Open champ, two-time winner Lee Trevino. Merry

Mex was a stroke behind Pat Fitzsimons, the first-round co-leader with Watson, whose 73 gave him a third-place total of 140.

Terry Dill, helped by a second-round 69, and Jim Wechers were bracketed with Trevino at 141.

Arnold Palmer, the fading people's choice, wobbled to a 75 with a ragged putting game. That went with an opening 69 for 14, nine strokes off the pace.

Also poised at 142 with Nicklaus were England's Peter Oosterhuis and Grier Jones, who faded from 69s to 73s.

Hopeful News in Medicine:

Speaking of Your Health...

LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

New Cancer Control Approach

An exciting new approach to the control of cancer is being tried at Stanford University in California. Tiny atomic particles, called "pions," when shot at tumor cells kill them.

The pions enter the cancer cells and produce a tiny explosion which disintegrates the cancer cells and prevents their recurrence.

Dr. Malcolm Bagshaw and his colleagues state that pion therapy should be available to humans in three to five years. It is expected to be three times as effective in killing tumor cells as X-ray treatments now in use. The experimental studies are confined to animals but hold great promise.

Almost every year, new methods of treatment become available for asthma.

Dr. Robert Webb, of the Mason Clinic in Seattle, has been using an experimental drug that had attracted wide interest in Great Britain.

The drug, "beclomethasone," in active use in England for the past five years, seems to have few side effects. In addition, the value of the drug was based on the fact that cortisone used in some asthmatic patients could be withdrawn.

The drug has not been released in America by the Food and Drug Administration. When this work is completely substantiated, it will be in general use by doctors in America for some types of asthma.

Life expectancy continues to increase in the United States. It is expected that, within two generations, there may be a marked increase in the number of people who live to be more than 100.

In the United States, there now are six times as many people past 65 than there were at the turn of the century.

With the gift of added years, there must come social advances that will increase the quality of living.

DR. COLEMAN welcomes letters from readers, and, while he cannot undertake to answer each one, he will use questions in his column whenever possible and when they are of general interest. Address your letters to Dr. Coleman in care of this newspaper.

TRIPLE R RUSTLERS

Due to stormy weather, the June 17 meeting of the Triple R. Rustlers 4-H Club was held in the home of Mrs. Jim Greene. The meeting was brought to order by Mike Ferguson, and pledges were led by Rod Stroup and Ross Emrick.

Two items of old business were discussed. The first was the halter and riding practice held the previous Tuesday, and the other the Lions Club Horse Show held June 15 which many members attended.

The main item of new business was the annual Triple R. Rustlers Horse Show. This event will be Sept. 15 at the Fayette County Fairgrounds. There will be 23 classes including a $50.00 flag race. Many businesses in the county will be sponsoring the different classes.

Reports were made on "Horseback Riding," "The Horse," and "Horse Care and Showings" respectively by Cheryl Orihood, Rod Stroup and Jeff Swarts.

A halter and riding practice is scheduled for June 24 at the Fairgrounds. The next meeting will be July 1 at the fairgrounds. Members are reminded to bring officer's books. Carletta Smith, reporter

WAYNE BLUE BIRDS

The Wayne Blue Birds held their last meeting for the summer at the home of their leader Mrs. Jean Minshall. The meeting was opened with the group repeating the Pledge of Allegiance and The Blue Bird Wish.

Suzette Adams took the attendance and collected the dues. Plans were made for a wiener roast next month at Lake Hill, and exhibits for the fair were completed.

Refreshments were served to Malissa Garringer, Suzette Adams, Suzi Mock, Malinda Minshall, Ronda Waggoner, Stephanie Warner, Assistant Mrs. Violet Adams, and leader Mrs. Minshall.

PIC-A-FAY 4-H CLUB

The recent meeting of the Pic-a-Fay 4-H Club was held in reversed order. Recreation Leaders, Diana Hughes and Cindy Thompson, led the group in a 'spice' game.

President Cindy Baird appointed a committee for planning the booth at the County Fair. Members are Cindy Baird, Jane Kearney, Karen Miller, and Gale Horney.

The following reports were given: Angela Johnson on "Skin Problems", Linda Miller on "Bicycle Safety", and Karen Miller on "Health Careers".

The group has several members that are attending camp as counselors. Going to Tenderfoot Camp is Cindy Baird. Attending Intermediate Camp is Jane Kearney and Denise Drake. Advanced Camp counselors are Twila Dennis, Gale Horney, and Jomi Warner.

The next meeting will be held for a work session and the group project, "Bread." Advisors Mrs. Harold Thompson and Mrs. Rodney Miller encouraged the members to keep working on their projects and that all clothing projects should be done by July 7.

Gale Horney, reporter

SUGAR CREEK SEEKERS

The Seekers of Sugar Creek Baptist Church met recently when Bret Smith called the meeting to order. The group discussed plans to set up a calling program in the Fall. We talked about the 4-H tour which took place Saturday. We met at 8:30 a.m. at the Jeffersonville School, and this tour was considered a meeting.

The next meeting will be June 24 and 25 at the Fairgrounds from 6 to 10 p.m. each evening.

Opening lead - king of clubs.

The most interesting hands to play are those where the contract seems hopeless and declarer, by good play, manages to make the contract.

Consider this deal where West, after cashing two clubs, shifts to a low diamond. Looking at all four hands, it is not easy to see how South can now make four hearts. It seems he must inevitably lose a diamond and a spade to go down one.

Winners Tuesday night at the Washington Duplicate Bridge Club were Mrs. Grove Davis and Miss Miriam Fite with 85. It was the second week in a row that Miss Fite topped the field. Mrs. Eber Coil and Mrs. Charles Fabb were second with 82; and John Lachat and Mrs. Gay Jackson were third with 76.

With the last week of the spring trophy competition upcoming, Mrs. Larry Coil retained her lead of seven points over Bruce Strickling. She has amassed 142 points while Strickling has 135. Mr. and Mrs. Keith Zimmerman continue to share third place with 124.

July 1 marks the first session of the summer competition, and all area bridge players are invited to participate. Games begin at 7:30 p.m. each Tuesday in the Benton Room of the Washington Inn. Anyone who is unfamiliar with local players may contact Mrs. J.C. Wright (335-7325) to arrange a partnership.

Girls State event ready to conclude

COLUMBUS — Campaign slogans, songs and promotions of all types preceded the election of officers at Buckeye Girls State on the campus of Capital University, Columbus.

After serving in their respective capacities as city, county and state officials for the past week, some 1,250 girls will leave for home Sunday. Seven of the participants are from Fayette County.

Each girl will enter her senior year this fall. Three representatives from Washington Senior High School and four from Miami Trace High School attended the week-long session in the operation of government.

Miss Barbara Whittington, 917 Clinton Ave., is serving as a city school board member; Miss Julia Looker, 169 Eastview Drive, was elected to the state house of representatives; and Miss Sue Moore, 178 Eastview Dr., is serving as county prosecutor. All are students at Washington Senior High School.

From Miami Trace are Miss Susan Rich, Ohio 753-S, central committeeman; Miss Diane Burke, CCC Highway-E, clerk of council; Miss Rose Evans, Bloomingburg, city service director; and Miss Gretchen Kreiger, Rt. 1, Jeffersonville, school board member.

Several speeches and a county fair highlight Saturday's activities at Girls State, and the participants will leave Sunday following chapel services and breakfast.

Sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary, the 1975 session at Capital University marks the 29th annual Buckeye Girls State seminar. Its purpose is to expose those involved to the methods by which local and state governments function.

The girls are invited to attend following their junior year in high school so that their experience may be shared with fellow students during senior government courses.

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP) — M. E. Acocks, superintendent of Port Clinton schools for the past six years, was hired Thursday as superintendent of Hancock County schools.

Four traffic mishaps checked by officers

Two traffic accidents were reported by Washington C.H. police today, one of which resulted in the citing of a local man for committing a traffic offense. Fayette County Sheriff's deputies reported an accident caused by a deer and the Ohio Highway Patrol investigated a car-semi mishap.

Cars driven by David O. Dennis, 35, of 504 Fifth St., and Mary M. Crone, 66, of 122 E. Oak St., collided at the intersection of Circle Avenue and W. Court Street, at 11:32 a.m. Friday, police reported. Dennis was cited for failure to yield right of way.

An accident on E. Market Street, near the Fayette Street intersection at 6:08 p.m. Friday, involved cars driven by Mary S. Wagner, 70, of 527 E. Temple St., and Freeda U. Edwards, 57, of 621 Gregg St. Police reported no injuries.

A car driven by David D. Pauley, 22, Sabina, struck and killed a deer which had run out in front of his auto at 12:30 a.m. Saturday, while Pauley was driving west on U.S. 22, near the Clinton-Fayette county line. The im-pect of the crash knocked the deer 116 feet and sent the Pauley auto traveling into the roadside ditch. Damage to his car was moderate.

A car driven by Rodney L. Garringer, 17, Jeffersonville, and James E. Scruggs, 41, Nashville, Tenn., were involved in a traffic mishap at 12:20 a.m. Saturday, at the I-71 and U.S. 35 intersection. The Ohio Highway Patrol reported neither driver injured.

Car fire doused

The spontaneous combustion of oily rags in the trunk of a car belonging to Paul Winterbotham, 823 S. Main St., apparently caused the auto to catch fire while parked at Kingery's used car lot, S. Fayette Street, at 7:20 a.m. Saturday.

Washington C.H. firemen were summoned to the scene and extinguished the blaze with water.

ROTARY CUTTERS

Continuous welds bond the deck, skirts and reinforcing beams into a solid, one-piece body

There's strength in Unibody construction. Strength that takes pounding punishment when you put one of these new, heavy-duty rotary cutters to work. Continuous-seam-welded Unibodies—they don't rely on bolts, rivets, or skip-welding for strength.

Put a Unibody rotary cutter to work mowing down tough brush or dense weed growth. Shred wiry cotton stalks. Pulverize those acres of thick cornstalks. Or just tidy up the farmstead.

Next time you're in, ask us about the 5-foot 509, 6-foot 609, and 7-foot 709.
